Cowpture them all!

Overview

"UFO Cowtcher" is a hyper-casual 2.5D mobile game, mixing 2D hand-drawn sprites in 3D low poly environments, featuring an axonometric projection view that draws inspiration from the classic gacha UFO-catcher machine. In this game, players take on the role of a UFO and attempt to abduct as many cows as possible while being hindered by fuel consumption. The various species of cows will do everything in their power to evade capture.

Core Gameplay

In "UFO Cowtcher", players must pursue a variety of cows within a confined game map area in order to abduct them using their UFO. The challenge is heightened by a time constraint imposed by the UFO's limited fuel supply.

During gameplay, players maneuver their UFO through the sky in a manner reminiscent of the classic "UFO Catcher" game. Utilizing a virtual joystick, players navigate their spacecraft in pursuit of a targeted cow from the herd. Once properly positioned above their target, players have the opportunity to activate the abductor ray - a conical beam of light commonly associated with alien abductions in pop culture. When this happens, players are challenged with a time trial mini game that will test their reactive capabilities: tapping the screen as fast as possible will let them abduct the cow successfully.

Every major action performed by players consumes their UFO's fuel. In order to overcome this danger, players must collect in-game objects to refill the spaceship's tank. After every abduction, players will see their fuel instantly decreasing. Collecting cow's poop will replenish a small amount of fuel.

In "UFO Cowtcher", players strive to complete the "Cowdex", a comprehensive collection of all existing cow species, each with its own unique appearance, abilities, and habits. "UFO Cowtcher" is designed to deliver an enjoyable experience suitable for players' smartphones, allowing them to always be ready to take flight and capture cows from paddock to paddock.

An Abdoocting Experience

"UFO Cowtcher" is designed to offer a gameplay akin to smartphones' usage, permitting the player to interact with the game using only one hand. The game is addressed to players who want to spend brief amounts of time with a hyper-casual game. People who enjoy completing a collection full of funny and colorful characters are the main target for this product, that thanks to its intuitive mechanics, typical of the genre, will constitute the ideal content suitable for children and teens.

Tons of cows await in their paddocks: whether normal, mythological or popped out from some weird universe...
